From the Vice Principal

Today's boys...tomorrow's gentlemen

Our tag line, Today's boys...tomorrow's gentlemen, is much more than a marketing tool. At CBC Fremantle, it encapsulates the journey we wish for all our boys during these important years at our College. This is a time when we hope that the boys' journey of faith, physical growth, intelligence, conscience, values and hope are built on the common values we share as parents and teachers.

In recent weeks, I have had the pleasure of interviewing prospective students and their families, and Year 10 boys choosing a course for Years 11 and 12. Central in these conversations has been the concept of the journey, where they think they are, how far have they come, and where do they think they would like to be. I have also raised the issue of College rules, and where they fit in the boys' understanding. At first glance, most boys take a very superficial view of the College rules. Common responses are that rules exist to be enforced, to maintain standards, for the reputation and image of the College etc. They are quite surprised when I inform them that the rules exist only to help them on the journey to being a gentleman, and that any other benefit derived is a bonus.

Key attributes of being a gentleman include resilience and commitment. As a College, we place in front of the boys a few very small humps to test and build their resilience and commitment. No-one is asked to run a sub one minute 400m, spell 'supercalifragilisticexpialidocious', or recite the second verse of Advance Australia Fair. Students and parents are asked simply to commit to the Code of Conduct, which challenges boys to keep their hair cut according to CBC standards, their top button done up, their shirt tucked in, their phones tucked away, and stay out of the shops before and after school. These are not hurdles requiring superhuman strength to overcome, they are very simple tests of commitment, and boys who can't get them right are not well-placed to face the challenges of adulthood.

One of my all-time favorite moments in my career was listening to CBC's previous Vice Principal, Mr O'Neill, dealing with an angry parent on the phone in his office. The parent's son had been given a detention for not getting their hair cut in a timely fashion. The father was railing against the rule and the detention. At one point he said, "Mr O'Neill, why are you making such a big deal over such a small issue!" At this point Mr O'Neill sighed, and agreed with the parent. I was dismayed when it sounded like a back-down on Mr O'Neill's part, but remember so vividly his response: "You're right, it is such a small issue ... so why can't you and your son get it right?"

College rules have a purpose. They are a shared set of values between the adult members of the educational partnership. Their strength is not in the enforcement, but in the respect they are shown by the boys when they accept and follow them, especially when they would rather do it otherwise. Our boys are our greatest asset. They remain so because overwhelmingly they believe in the purpose of the rules on the journey they are undertaking at our College. I thank all of the parents for their support with regard our College Code of Conduct as we support "today's boy's...tomorrow's gentlemen."

The Rite Journey movie evening

Stand By Me (1986)

As part of The Rite Journey programme, Mr Joel Moss's class is organising a movie evening at the College on Tuesday 27 August from 6.30pm in the ALA.

Refreshments will be available from 6.30pm, with the movie starting at 7pm. It is approximately 90 minutes long, so expected finish is 8.30pm.

Stand By Me is set in 1959 and shows the experiences of a group of four boys at a similar age to our Year 9s. It has a number of great messages within it about friendship and growing up, and is almost the perfect movie to link with The Rite Journey programme.

Year 9 boys have been asked to invite their Mentors for The Rite Journey to attend with them, and parents are also welcome.

The movie is classified for Mature Audiences (M) due to some strong language in a few scenes.

The challenge for Mr Moss's Rite Journey group is to organise the evening, including displays, food, drinks and a popcorn machine.

Tickets are $2.00 per person and will be on sale over the coming days from Mr Moss's Year 9 Rite Journey class or directly from Mr Moss in Room 103. Each ticket will entitle the holder to a bag of popcorn and a soft drink as well as entry. Seating in the ALA is limited so get in early to ensure you don't miss out.

Oblate Cup

Tuesday 20 August 2013

CBC Fremantle was originally established by the Oblates of St Patrick's before becoming a Christian Brothers school in 1901. For many years our College Chaplain has been the Parish Priest of St Patrick's, which is one of the Oblates' largest churches

In 2008, the two schools first came together for an annual sporting challenge which has since become a great tradition – the Oblate Cup.

The results have been close since the competition began and Mazenod have vowed to win for this year. Throughout the day, different teams will be travelling to the Trinity Playing Fields on Manning Road to participate in Football, Soccer, Hockey, and Rugby. Years 7, 8 and 9 Basketball will be played at the Victoria Park Rec Centre, and Years 10, 11 and 12 at the George Burnett Leisure Centre.

The Year 7 and Years 8/9 games commence at 9.30am, Year 10s at 11.00am and the Year 11/12s at approximately 1.00pm.

On the day 'Best on Ground' medallions will be awarded after each round. These medallions have been named after Brothers associated with the Colleges for each sport: Football – Br Kevin Paull; Hockey – Br Pat Kelly; Rugby – Br Allan Wedd; Basketball – Br John Murray, and Soccer – Br John Morgan.

At the main presentation, following the games, shields named after Oblate Priests associated with both schools will be presented to the College who won the most games for each sport.

The Oblate Cup is awarded to the College who gains the most shields overall.

It would be great for parents, friends and family to come along and support the boys.

All participants in the Oblate Cup should bring home an information letter, which will also be available on the College website under Parent Notices.
